

ABSTRACT

5 A two layer structure comprising a fluid permeable, first layer in fluid communication with a fluid permeable second layer is provided. The two layers contact one another through a plurality of disconnected macrofeatures that project either from the first layer or 10 the second layer. The structure has particular utility as a cover/transfer layer for use in absorbent articles.